Editorial

From your president and editor

This month, I have no contributions from members. That's not at all unusual. However, this time, I am unable to find enough time and material to produce an interesting news-letter. Time to find a new editor?

Contributions to Skywords

An editor's job is to edit contributions submitted by others and I am very grateful to the reliable few who take the time to contribute. Once again, it's your club and your news-letter. If you wish the newsletter to continue, write dammit.

Cheers. Lawrence (Binker@Sympatico.ca).

Bayview Maintenance

A great crew turned out to improve the Bayview field. We owe them all our collective vote of thanks.

Thanks to Bill Swindells who provided the picture.

BRCM BOARD

This is a repeat of an article that appeared in the October edition. It remains valid!

It is that time of year again when the membership should be considering the next year's potential candidates for the running of your club.

On many occasions we have been fortunate to have members who are concerned enough to take an interest in contributing to the club's direction and workings. They are concerned not only in making sure we remain financially solvent, but also insure that the physical workings of the club are met, such as the maintenance of our two flying fields and the associated inventory of machinery that comes with these fields. This entails making sure that there is actual physical contribution as well as financial. By this, I mean that we have been fortunate in the past to have members who were really willing to get off their butts, and physically contribute their time and energy to the making of the club what it actually is today!

As we approach our coming Annual General Meeting in January, we need to nominate members to the Board who are going to unselfishly contribute their time and actually do contribution work on the Board, not just take up space for the sake of being on the Board. We need people who are responsible, and who are willing to provide ideas, input and shoulder some of the working load that it takes to run this club. We are running a business here. We deal with thousands of dollars, and need foresight as to the direction that the club needs to maintain. What are we contributing to the city and region, and are we responsible citizens hosting a worthwhile hobby that contributes to the benefit of Burlington??? We need your input to help us.

We have many long standing members who in the past have contributed significantly to our club, and we have newer members who are not in a position at this time to provide their services because of home commitments. We are looking for those who are willing to take on some responsibility to share with us their knowledge and efforts. With an actual 'working Board', the individual time from one member does not become a significant load.

Ask around the next time you see other members of the club and see if there are people who want to contribute, how about yourself???? There are two meetings a month, the Board meeting on the first Tuesday of the month and the general meeting held the fourth Thursday of the month. If you want to help lead the club and provide interesting meetings for the membership, why not offer some suggestions and a little bit of your time to make our club a better club.

I welcome your comments and ideas, and I know that our Editor, Lawrence would certainly appreciate input from the membership for the newsletter.
