Wanted New Editor

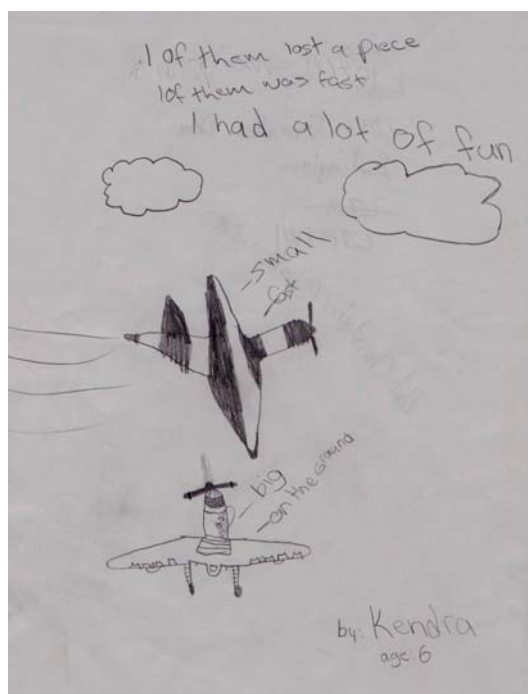

After just over six years as editor of Skywords, (with a couple of breaks for travelling), I've decided to call it quits at the end of the year. December 2012 will therefor be my last edition.

So we need a new editor. I can work with him for the next couple of editions if required.

This is a chance to do something important for the club that is clean and involves no heavy lifting plus can be done at home in your own time. It is also fun.

Give me a call.

Kendra (aged 6) drew this picture at Warbirds.

It says "One of them lost a piece. One of them was fast. I had a lot of fun." So did we all, but I'll leave it to you to guess which planes she is referring to.

I promised Kendra I'd send her a copy of Skywords, then promptly lost her address so if anyone knows the family send this on or let me know. ed.

The mid-day Runway show at Warbirds

At our May 2012 meeting 9 of the original club members showed up.
What a fine body of men!

Dick Fahey, Harry Bernard, Harold Jones, Charlie Chomos.

A word on volunteering.

I'm a pretty typical club member.

I've been a member for 12 years. I've been on the board for 10 of those, treasurer for 3, VP then President, editor of Skywords for 6. Like so many others I've helped built sheds and chickies, cut grass and driven a roller, picked up stones and worked events and I did it because it needed doing plus, most importantly, it was fun.

Many have done and still do much much more than I have ever done but how about you?

Without volunteers there is no club so join in and you will get the most out of our hobby and have fun doing it.

Talk to VP Mike Block at the meeting on the 28th September.

Above. A freak wind took the Chicky at Bronte and dragged it about 200M towards the QEW before leaving it in a twisted mess. (Carl Finch is on the left, the twisted mess on the right), Bronte Park have provided us with a free replacement, even put it up for us!
